VOL. IV. GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1908. No. 33

THE QUESTION OF BOULEVARDS

Interest Being Awakened in the Subject—Some Generous Offers

We understand that at least three persons in Glendale have offered to donate a portion of their property abutting upon the public highway for the purpose of creating a broad boulevard in our city, as suggested by Forester Harper, of Los Angeles, and has been advocated through these columns and as is being done in other cities. One real estate dealer offers to give sufficient land from property of which he has control to widen Sixth street to one hundred feet. Another extensive property holder on Central avenue, who has spent time abroad and evidently appreciates the broad boulevards of European cities, will give a generous slice of land from his property contiguous to that avenue, to have the same made a fine boulevard.

Mr. Wells on Eagle Rock road, between Third and Fourth streets, while he will be glad to see a railway on that street, deprecates the narrowness of the same and offers to donate a strip wide enough to make a good broad boulevard and parkways providing other property holders will do the same. There seems to be a lively interest being manifested in this proposition, which speaks volumes for the culture and intelligence of the community; but really aside from the culture of our community we are a thinking people and appreciate the fact that beautiful streets are a great attraction to the best people, which is the kind that we want to draw among us and, besides, we also know that real estate along such a boulevard as proposed would at once take a leap upward as residential property.

GLENDALE COUNTRY CLUB ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the members of the Country Club was held last Monday evening. There were forty-one members present and although it was intended to be more of a business than a social meeting, it proved to be rather an enjoyable affair. The reports made by the officers of the club showed such a satisfactory condition of affairs and so large an increase in membership during the past year that the evidence of prosperity was received with enthusiasm. There are now eighty-six members enrolled and the financial report showed that the club affairs are now on a fairly satisfactory basis, being greatly improved during the year just ended. The election of officers resulted in the selection of the following named directors for the ensuing year. Messrs. L. C. Brand, Edgar W. Pack, C. E. Shattuck, Menzo Williams and V. Price Brown. Mr. Brand was elected president and Mr. Pack vice president. The present secretary, Mr. McLafferty, will probably continue in that position. One of the most popular and successful innovations of the past year has been the formation of the ladies' auxiliary in connection with the club work. The ladies have had a number of very successful Monday afternoon entertainments, which have added greatly to the interest taken in the club, and they have in view a number of pleasant and original entertainments to be given in the near future.

DOG POISONER AT WORK.

At Tropico the other day two or three dogs were lying dead on the streets and the owners and other citizens were expressing their justifiable indignation at the cowardly work of the poisoner. On Monday morning last a valued dog, belonging to Mr. Earl B. Valentine on Fifth street, was found dead in the front yard about ten o'clock in the morning. In the latter case there are circumstances pointing suspiciously in a certain direction and Mr. Valentine does not propose to let the matter drop without further effort to locate the guilty individual. While there are homeless curs about town whose taking off would be of benefit to the community, yet the privilege of acting as executioner does not devolve upon any particular person who may or may not be a lover of dogs and the use of poison invariably results in the death of animals which are valued by their owners and are deserving of protection. The scattering of poison promiscuously is a dangerous act and is so recognized by the law, while the use of it to get rid of an animal belonging to a neighbor is equally cowardly and culpable.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

New members are continually being admitted to membership list, seven being the number for the current week. The day was in charge of the Philanthropic department, and Mrs. L. C. Rice, Mrs. Chas. Burket, Mrs. M. Rehart and Miss Cora Hickman were actively engaged in making it a notable one.

Collections of food, fruit, canned goods and warm new clothing and a few scrapbooks wer gathered and the display promised a happy time to little ones of the King's Daughters Day Nursery, to whom the gifts were sent with a warm Christmas greeting from the club. Musical numbers were rendered by Miss Guiberson of Los Angeles and Miss Anna Augsperger, whose recent admittance into membership promises rare musical treats in the future, as now much of the best musical ability in Fernando valley is identified with the club.

During the business session reports were read by chairmen of forestry and civics sections, proving these departments very active in accomplishing much tangible good. Great interest was given plans made for work following the holidays. Club adjourned until January 1st, with a bright Christmas message from the president, Mrs. Pack.

Local Happenings

Mr. J. C. Connors of Sixth and Adams street, has been ill for some days past.

Mrs. E. S. Reese of Louise street, who has been on the sick list for the past week, is convalescing.

Mr. L. A. Jones, former resident of Glendale, visited here Tuesday last. He is now located at Covina.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Chase on Friday night entertained with whist, the enjoyable little affair taking place in their home on Fourth street.

The handsome new house of Mr. Bright is finished and ready for occupancy. It is located on Mary street between [illegible] and Second streets.

Dr. and Mrs. Colgrove entertained a coterie of friends on the evening of Friday, Dec. 4th, with whist at their pleasant home on Fifth street.

Dr. Stiles F. Johnson, formerly of West Africa, was on Thursday a dinner guest of Mrs. E. T. Byram, Glendale avenue. Dr. Johnson gave an address in the Presbyterian church in the evening.

Mrs. Christy and her two childrn of Eureka, Kas., who have been visiting Mrs. Christy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pyle of Lomita Park, for the past few weeks, accompanied by Mrs. Clara Keeney, Mr. Pyle's sister, of Topeka, Kas., left for home Tuesday night.

We had the pleasure of receiving a call during the week from the Rev. A. B. Morrison, who has charge of the Mission church in the Vineyard tract, erected by Mr. J. C. Lennox last summer. Mr. Morrison has been a resident of the Vineyard tract since October and owns some lots and a residence in that rapidly growing section. In addition to something like fifty years of service in the ministry, Mr. Morrison served with distinction in the civil war, entering service as a captain in the 26th Illinois and coming out as a brigadier commander.

Citrus fruit growers will get their boxes this year at a considerably lower figure than they have paid for the past several years. The California pine box and lumber company has fixed the price at 12½ cents for orange and 13¾ cents for lemon boxes. Two years ago boxes cost 21 cents apiece. No satisfactory substitute has been found for the California pine box. The orange box contains about seventy pounds of fruit, the lemon box about ten pounds more. It is estimated that this lower price for boxes means a saving to California growers of about $350,000 for the coming season.

THE JUBILEE SINGERS IN GLENDALE.

We do not wish to have any of our readers disappointed in hearing the wonderful voices of this double quartet by having failed to obtain tickets in time. The capacity of the Masonic hall is so limited that only about two hundred seats are available. The sale of seats has already been so large that most of the lower priced seats are gone, and also a consideable block of the higher priced seats. The price of the best seats is very low for an entertainment of this excellence. No one who loves good singing and can give the price of a seat can afford to miss it. Seats are for sale at the Glendale Pharmacy and at the Miradero Pharmacy in Glendale and at the store of the Tropico Mercantile company in Tropico, until noon of Wednesday.

Do not forget the date, Dec. 16th, Wednesday, 8:15 p. m.

Do not forget the place, Masonic Hall, Glendale.

WEDDED—TWO OF GLENDALE'S POPULAR CITIZENS JOINED IN MATRIMONY.

Not because it is now news, for the happy event occurred on Nov. 27th, but because of a desire to put upon record every event of importance that occurs in our city, we announce the marriage of Mr. C. M. Lund and Mrs. Harriet B. Potter. Each of them has a large number of friends in Glendale and they are receiving more than the usual felicitations upon the event, which, although celebrated in a very quiet manner, will we have no doubt, bring to them just as effectually the fullest realization of the happiness of married life.

THE GLENDALE STUDY CLUB.

The ladies of the Study Club met on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 10th, at the home of Mrs. H. O. Brooks, Louise street, to meet their former president, Mrs. Tufts, who recently moved to Pasadena.

Mrs. Tufts took part in the program and read a paper on "Paul Jones and the Beginning of Our Navy." Guests were friends of members.

REPORT OF THE FORESTRY COMMITTEE.

To the Tuesday Afternoon Club:

Ladies: As previously stated by your committee the members of the forestry committee representing the Tuesday Afternoon Club met, by invitation, with the members of the city council for the purpose of co-operating with that body in the matter of tree planting and preserving in the city of Glendale.

Ordinance No. 88, entitled "An Ordinance Regulating the Planting of Trees or Shrubbery in the Public Streets, Avenues or Public Places in the City of Glendale, and Provides for the Manner of Selection Thereof," passed by the city council on December second, and published in the Glendale News of December fifth, is clear and explicit and has evidently been drafted to the end of securing in the planting of the streets of a city the very best results, as endorsed by landscape gardeners and foremost authorities everywhere. The matter of the choice of the trees being left to the decision of the property holders on each street, every such propertyholder may have the privilege of expressing his choice.

Several citizens representing various sections of the city have responded to the request and consented to aid in securing an expressed preference of trees by property holders.

The committee recommends that not only the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club but citizens generally, co-operate with the city in the matter of setting trees and also preserving all trees already growing.

The committee would state that the petition prepared by it to the council asking for the appointment of a city forester was presented to that body, but it was thought that he duties of this office would come under the direction of Street Superintendent Sinclair, who has already been most courteous and wise in his co-operation with the civics committee, Mrs. Sherer chairman, especially in assisting the ladies to take the necessary steps to preserve the fine pepper trees on Fourth and Fifth streets.

Your committee commends the suggestion for securing for Glendale a broad boulevard as recommended by Mr. Harper, and hopes that suggestions looking towards this end may be brought out.

The following resolution is offered by your committee for your endorsement.

(Signed) MRS. D. W. HUNT,
Chairman Forestry Committee, Tuesday Afternoon Club.

To the Committee of the City Council having the preparation of petition blanks for use of property holders in selecting street trees in the city of Glendale:

The forestry committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club respectfully recommend that the following points be incorporated in the petition blanks for the selection of shade trees, viz.: That property holders take into consideration the price, vitality, longevity, cleanliness and shape of trees, adaptability to soil and climate, rapidity of growth, drought resisting qualities, width of parkway and kind of trees already planted with the suggestion that planting of the selected trees be made between undesirable ones already growing, to the end of later removing the latter.

The committee also recommends the following trees for consideration, as being adapted to this locality and endorsed by City Forester Harper of Los Angeles, and other reliable authorities. The acacias, preferably black, camphor, pepper, Monterey pine, hardy rubber, Phoenix canarienses palm, bottle tree and Catalina cherry.

The committee further recommends the calling of a mass meeting at an early specified date for the purpose of a satisfactory understanding of Ordinance No. 88.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

Following routine business and reports of the civics and forestry committees of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, the special and appropriate feature of the Tuesday meeting, the last before Christmas, was given and was in charge of the philanthropic committee, represented by Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Emma Burkett, Mrs. Rehart and Miss Hickman.

It had been requested that each member bring two glasses of jelly and make a muslin scrap book to be sent to the King's Daughters Day Nursery of Los Angeles in memory of the many virtues and wise intelligent and helpful works of Mrs. B. F. Patterson, herself a King's Daughter, and benefactress of this institution.

The liberal contributions including also materials to be used in the sewing class for older girls, and many pounds of pure candy placed in pretty quarter-pound boxes, the generous gift of Mr. Bullock, of Bullock's Store, Los Angeles, spoke of much interest. One hundred pounds of walnuts was also reported as a gift from East Whittier Woman's Club.

A request was made for fresh cookies to be sent to Mrs. Rehart by December 28th, to go in for the Christmas festivities of the home, a few days later.

Miss Hickman spoke appreciatively of the departed one and introduced Miss Guiberson of Los Angeles who gave a piano solo and encore most artistically and beautifully, and Miss Augsperger, a brilliant and practiced performer.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

Never before in the history of Glendale has there been a greater activity in building circles than has prevailed during the past month. Lumber yards report a good business and there are several projects afoot for the near future.

The Cole and Dick block on Brand boulevard is going ahead repidly, the brick work being almost completed. The High School building is progressing satisfactorily and the Grammar School building is practically completed, its acceptance by the trustees only being delayed on account of a defective varnish used on the interior finish which necessitates re-varnishing to some extent. The contractors and sub-contractor are not responsible except technically for this delay in finishing as the paint company furnishing the material acknowledge that it was at fault.

One of the finest improvements in the way of public buildings that has yet been made in our city will be the structure to be erected by the Bank of Glendale on the southeast corner of Fourth and Glndale avenue, a description of which will be given in another issue.

The announcement has just been made that Mr. David Filger has bought the triangular shaped lot on Fourth street on the alley east of the Hurtt block, lately owned by the E. T. Byram estate, and will erect thereon a two-story brick building in the near future. This lot has a frontage of 76 feet on Fourth street running back 222 feet to a point, with an alley on each side.

Residences are springing up in every quarter. Mr. Frederic Dill, who lately came here from Wisconsin, paid $1500 per acre for a two-acre lot on Verdugo Road, of Mr. G. Schwemer, above Ninth street, and has laid the foundation of a residence that will probably cost from $2000 to $2500. It is expected that Mr. Dill, who is a landscape gardener, will make improvements on the grounds surrounding his residence, which will be in keeping with his house. On Verdugo Road above the corner of Third street, Mr. J. Andrews has begun the erection of a residence to cost about $2000. Adjoining Mr. Andrews on the north, Mr. J. A. Eaman has sold his house and a portion of his two and a half acres to a reverend gentleman whose name we have not secured. The parish house and rectory being erected on Third and Isabel, is described elsewhere. M. P. Harrison has under way a house on Third street below Central, to cost about $1800. Mr. Brooks is putting up a $1500 residence near Casa Verdugo, corner of Putnam and Mountain View. Mr. Franklin is building three houses costing from $1500 to $2000 each; one is located on 7th street between the boulevard and Central avenue, one on Third and Central and the other on Hawthorn street west of Central. Mr. Walton has started a house on Kenwood near First street previously reported as contemplated. The Milwaukee Building company is erecting a $2500 residence on Glendale Home Place, north of First street west of Central. Garfield Jones is building a $2500 house on Cedar street above Second. W. A. Goss is putting up a residence on Fifth street, corner of Belmont, which will cost from $2500 to $3000. Mr. E. S. Yard, Sycamore street, Henry Redd, Lawrence Eley in the same neighborhood in the Valley View tract, are putting up small cottages on the rear of their respective lots. J. E. Paul is building a small cottage at 256 Orange street. Geo. T. Winterburn, on Boynton avenue, Tropico, is putting up a $1200 house. The report of the building inspector for November shows permits granted for several dwellings aggregating a cost of $12,385.

GUILD HALL AND PARISH HOUSE.

Indications point toward completion of the fine Guild Hall and parish house of St. Mark's Episcopal church on March 1st.

The cement work is complete and the building will be rushed. The location, Third and Jackson streets, is considered one of the best in the city.

Guild Hall, planned largely for the young people, will be 30x40 feet, finished throughout in Oregon pine. There will be a 10x36 stage, with fair-sized dressing-rooms at either end of it. The hall will be thoroughly well lighted and ventilated, and will seat about 300. The rectory itself will be of good-size, containing seven rooms, four of them sleeping rooms. A great folding-door will connect Guild Hall with the dining-room, which is to contain a great fire-place and large windows.

All modern improvements will be employed, such as open plumbing, etc. The cement-floored porch will be 10x60, with 8x8 pillar supports. The probable cost of the building will be $2700.

MAGIC MUSIC AND OTHER SURPRISES.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Claude O. Pulliam gathered on Tuesday night at Oak Leigh, the new home of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt, and from thence found their way to the brand new door of the Pulliam domicile. Arrival of guests was announced in a startling manner by the flashing of red lanterns in the windows, and the house-warming began in earnest from the moment of admittance to the beautiful new home on Second and Kenwood streets.

When thirty determined guests take complete possession of a home things begin to happen. Charades, impersonations, riddles and a program of "magic music" followed in quick order. A duet by Mrs. D. Winslow Hunt and Mrs. Pulliam was the musical event of the season, with a few choice solos rendered by high-class musicians a close second; especially numbers furnished by Madame Fraleski, local prima donna of rare musical ability.

TROPICO

Miss Mary Getchell, who has been spending the past few months at Orange, returned the latter part of the week for a few days' visit at her home, previous to goin gto Pasadena on a brief visit.

Mrs. C. H. Scheu of "Las Flores," who has been in Denver, the past month, whither she was summoned to attend the funeral obsequies of her mother, Mrs. Budde, returned home the first of the week.

The Thursday Afternoon Club met last week with Mrs. E. W. Richardson. On account of the inclemency of the weather very few were present. Those who were there gathered around the fire and enjoyed an interesting conversation on various subjects.

Mrs. Anna Imler Smith entertained with a smart luncheon at her home, "Quinta Ana," Monday at which guests entertained included Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Speicher of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Imler, Mrs. W. W. Imler, Miss Florence Speicher, Misses Maud and Elizabeth Speicher.

Dr. and Mrs. Garmon lunched at the Westminster Hotel, Friday, on the occasion of a meeting and luncheon arranged for a conference of the physicians of the First Congregational church with a view to instituting the Emmanuel movement which has been carried on so successfully by some of the churches in several Eastern cities.

GOOD TEMPLARS INSTALL.

The recently elected corps of officers of the Good Templars lodge was installed by Deputy Robert Taylor, at G. A. R. hall, Friday evening. Frank Guernsey, past chief Templar; Allen Bullis, chief Templar; Mrs. L. C. Rice, vice Templar; Ralph Robinson, recording secretary; Miss Enid Watson, assistant secretary; Joy S. Rice, financial secretary; Vernon Carr, treasurer; Miss Carrie Cornwall, conductor; Clarence Edwards, marshal; Harry Marple, deputy marshal; Will Marple, guard; Leon White, sentinel. It will be a source of great satisfaction to the community to learn that the Good Templars lodge is increasing in numbers and that much enthusiasm is being manifested. This being the first lodge organized in the valley and every one realizing the good that has been accomplished by this band of indefatigable workers in the cause of temperance, every citizen should aid them most loyally. If we cannot be boosters for the Good Templars and give them our earnest and sincere support, let us not be knockers.

A kindly word, if that is all we can bestow, will aid them and encourage them. Shakespeare has written, "How far that little candle sheds its light, so shines a good deed in a naughty world."

ALPHA CHI OMEGA ENTERTAINED.

For their charming daughter, Miss Emma, Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Glendale on Friday night entertained members of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority, University of Southern California, and a few local friends.

Colors of the chapter were used and the red and green of carnations and smilax carried out the artistic scheme of decoration with the aid of numerous college pennants.

An extra trailer brought out about eighty guests at eight o'clock. Following the reception hour were musical numbers and dancing.

GLENDALE, CAL., DECEMBER 12, 1908

It is probably safe to predict that Captain Manning will be the chairman of the new board of supervisors that will be sworn in on January 1st. The record of Mr. Eldridge as a public official is such that we cannot conceive of the other members of the board of supervisors supporting him for that position, which by unwritten law must be filled by a hold-over member.

"Taft, the Pope's Friend, a Disbeliever in Christ, the Foe to Prohibition, the Favorite of the Trusts, Was Elected."

The above is not a quotation from the musty archives of a past century, but a portion of the caption placed over the election returns, by that great exemplar of Christianity (Prohibition?), the California Voice, in its issue of Nov. 26th, last.

As an example of present day bigotry, this easily caps the climax. It speaks for itself so loudly that it needs neither interpreter nor comment. An intelligent people will judge whether or not this sort of thing is Christianity.

We take pleasure in publishing with the bane, an antidote, consisting of a recent utterance of David Starr Jordan:

"It is clear to the sensible American that the religion of Jesus has no necessary connection with Church or State, except as Church or State may be permeated with its spirit. It has no necessary connection with creed or ceremony, with litany or liturgy, with priest or preacher, with symbol or miracle, with sacrament of baptism, with pious action or with pious refraining. These have been associates of religion, sometimes its servants; but the reality behind all is the individual man, his relation to his fellows and to his individual duty."

HOW CALIFORNIA VOTED ON THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

California's official vote at the recent election on the most important amendments, was as follows:

On change of system of taxation, 87,977 for; 114,104 against.

Increasing salaries of state officers, 92,385 for; 92,680 against.

Increasing compensation of members of legislature, 116,600 for; 68,902 against.

Increasing terms of existence of corporations, 115,412 for; 81,849 against.

Limiting number of legislative employes, 135,113 for; 48,144 against.

Relating to state primary laws, 152,853 for; 46,772 against.

For removing the state capital, 87,378 for; 165,630 against.

The following amendments also carried: Relating to state indebtedness;

Relating to disability of stockholders;

Relating to lotteries and sales of stock;

Relating to compensation of county officers;

Relating to special tax for support of day and evening schools, etc.

MORE FREQUENT CAR SERVICE WANTED.

We have no doubt but that the problem of supplying a rapidly growing community with satisfactory car service is a difficult one and we are not disposed to be at all unreasonable; but at the same time it is evident to all patrons of the Pacific-Electric that during a portion of the morning and evening hours the service given Glendale is very unsatisfactory. And if Glendale patrons have good cause for complaint, the people of Tropico have much more, for from 7:30 to 9:20 or thereabouts in the morning, one-half of them are unable to procure seats when they ride to Los Angeles in the Pacific-Electric cars. We suggest that Traffic Manager McCaffery take a trip over the line some pleasant morning and evening and discover this condition for himself. He might also ride over the line during the early evening hours when two cars are being run together, and observe the fact that there is not sufficient current to afford light while the cars are in motion. When these deficiencies are remedied we shall take pleasure in referring to the Glendale branch of the Pacific-Electric road as altogether the best line in equipment and service of any in California, which in this connection comes pretty near meaning the United States!

AS TO LEGISLATORS.

Presumably many of the recently elected legislators are putting in a good deal of time now preparing new laws with which to encumber the statute books when they get to the state capital. Some of them have incubated vast schemes of reform which they would gleefully inflict upon a tolerant constituency and fondly imagine the while that they were fulfilling the highest possible mission in a world which had all gone wrong until they dawned upon it. Fortunately, or otherwise, the most of these callow schemes will come to naught on account of the difficulty the reformers encounter in inducing their fellow statesmen to observe the world from their particular view point. Some day we hope the idea will dawn upon the consciousness of our statesmen in embryo, that he serves his country best who inflicts upon it the fewest laws. The members of our legislative body are so generally engaged in scheming to get their own particular bills through the legislative mill, that they are prepared to support and swallow whole the miscellaneous aggregation of bills presented by their fellows. The result of this method is seen in the vast number of bills that become laws at every session of the legislature and the still vaster number of measures proposed and consigned to the waste basket. The responsibility for this system rests largely with the people. They are supposed to, and generally do expect that a man whom they send to the legislature must exert himself to secure the enactment of some particular law. The result is that he bends his efforts in that direction, ties himself up to other measures into the merits of which he has not had time to inquire, in order to get support for his own, loses his independence of action and has no influence in working for the general good. Of course, there is a need occasionally for new laws and for the amendment of old ones, but the great need of the present time is for indeepndent men in the legislature who seek favor for no particular measures but are prepared to sift the good from the bad and be a force for better government.

IS GLENDALE TO BE TAKEN OFF THE MAP?

Editor Glendale News:

We understand that a petition is being circulated which if successful will abolish the Glendale postoffice and all business pertaining to the same will be transacted at a substation of Los Angeles. This would mean that Geindale would lose her identity as a postoffice and come under the sheltering wings of the "Angel City."

While a free delivery once or twice a day would be a convenience to some we doubt if any right-thinking person would be willing to obliterate Glendale for this advantage. In a very short time Glendale will attain the necessary population to insure the regular free delivery of any large city and retain her identity as a postoffice. If there are any advantages in hastening free delivery by this sacrifice your correspondent would like to know them. Perhaps those mossy-draped ones who voted for disincorporation are again trying to sink Glendale into oblivion. Let us all think seriously before signing a paper which means taking the name of our Glendale postoffice off the list of United States postoffices.

Mark Twain, it is said, when in a remote part of our globe, received a letter addressed to "Mark Twain, Anywhere,' but we residing in this prophetically populous and perfect city would prefer something a little more distinctive on our mail than "Los Angeles Substation, Y or Z," perhaps.

While the "Angel City" may possibly become a mighty host and ultimately scoop in the whole of San Fernando valley, yet we believe that Glendale wants to try sprouting her own pinfeathers and growing her own wings. Let us all think seriously before signing a paper which means taking the name of Glendale out of the list of United States postoffices.

POSTER PROGRAM A GREAT SUCCESS.

Odd Fellows Hall was filled to overflowing Saturday night at the annual senior benefit. Enthusiasm and true school spirit ran high, manifesting in much applause and deafening class yells. Victory electrified the air and all shared with the faculty and school the triumph felt over the result of the afternoon's game on the Alhambra court, when Glendale's crack basket ball team defeated El Monte by the score of 29 to 20, placing the championship of the Suburban League with our boys. Following a short talk by Prof. H. Howe, coach for the team, was the presentation of "Gs" to those who had helped win the coveted championship. Those receiving the latter were: R. Stine, C. Emery, Theo Gould, A. Taylor, Carl Kern, M. Walton, N. Sprinkle.

Those participating in the program of musical numbers and readings were Mr. Earl Bishop Valentine, violin; Mrs. Geo. U. Moyse, accompanist; Miss Elenor Clemmons, violin; Miss Emma Williams, accompanist; Miss [illegible] Cumnock seniors, who were enthusiastically recalled several times.

The pantomime play roused plenty of hearty laughter and was very good, the participants were all dramatically inclined(?) seniors. The hall was very gay with numerous High School pennants and prize banners of which the school is justly proud. The unique feature of the evening was the presentation of program numbers, each presentation being given on a handsome hand-painted poster for which landscapes, missions, conventionalized blossoms offered a theme. Work upon them was executed under supervision of Miss Belle Hall.

Missionary Society Meeting

At the M. E. church Thursday afternoon, December 10th, convened the Womens' Foreign Missionary Society, a large number being present. Willing hands under the direction of the President, Mrs. D. F. Hendershott decorated the church parlors in flowers and greenery. With the addition of rugs, screens and pictures, it looked like one large cosy corner.

A most interesting program was presented by the program committee.

Special music for the occasion was rendered by the Misses Catharine Lennox, Dorothy Lee and Ethel Tarr, followed by an interesting paper by Mrs. E. Harn on her trip to Los Angeles rally day.

Mrs. Ed Lee gave some descriptive sketches of Mohammedan religion and customs illustrating by several oriental pictures.

Mrs. Ferguson told of the countries where Mohammedanism reigned supreme. Those countries were pointed out to the interested listeners by Mrs. Lee, using the large new maps recently acquired.

Mrs. Small spoke of how some people read Missionary magazines and how they should read them in order to gain the most instruction and good.

Mrs. Potts voiced the appeal of Foreign Missionaries for more and better equipped hospitals and Medical Missionaries. Women Medical Missionaries are the only ones that can gain admission to the presence of Moslem women, who are kept in seclusion behind closed doors.

It is an awful fact that human pain, misery, illness is unmitigated by tender and skillful ministration outside of Christian countries.

Mrs. R. D. Goss followed with a sketch of the lives of two noble women Medical Missionaries after which the ladies thoroughly inspected a fine selection of curios from seven distinct sections of the orient. This pleasure was made possible through the kindness of R. D. Goss from whose cabinet the choice and beautiful curios were loaned.

AN INTERESTING BOOK.

"How the Coreys Went West," by Permelia Corey Thomson.

The above is the title of an appreciated gift from the authoress to the secretary of the Glendale public library board, who has known Mrs. Thomson many years.

Mrs. Thomson is the mother of Estella Thomson, a magazine writer of fine talent and at one time on the editorial staff of the Los Angeles Times. This, Mrs. Thomson's first book, written when over eighty years of age, demonstrates that age places no limitations upon achievement.

King George the Third put away, for a royal spouse, the beautiful Quakerss wife, Hannah Lightfoot, whose marriage with him had been duly solemnized and was witnessed by William Pitt. Her children relinquished all claim to the British throne and came to America. The son of the eldest son was the father of Mrs. Thomson and the story of his pioneering across the continent is partly told in the book, which contains many interesting references to and descriptions of habits, manners and customs, connected with the pioneer settlement of our country, which are fast passing from remembrance and are really valuable because a part of the slowly receding past.

The book, which may be seen at the library, is bound in canvas and artistically printed and illustrated in sepia monochrome.

The style is uniformly clear, concise and forceful throughout, with often a quaint, old-timey fragrance which is charming.

In the lack of emotion in relating this story of life one can perhaps discern the Quaker qualities inherited from the great grandmother, while in the little touches of pride and dignity throughout, is traced the royal blood of that kingly great grandfather.

CHAPTER L., P. E. O. CONVENES.

Miss Ruth Byram entertained on behalf of the local chapter, P. E. O., on Monday night. Ferns and roses and a cheery open fire made very pleasant the happy social hour preceding the regular business session.

The topic for the literary program was "Immigration and Naturalization," Mrs. Josephine Byrkit and Miss Mary Blackburn were leaders. A short sketch was read by Mrs. G. E. Williams on "The Gateway of the Nation," which closed the program work for 1908. The chapter and eligible B. I. T.'s will meet for a social evening and Christmas tree, December 21st, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Russell.

W. C. T. U.

I wish to call the attention of the members to the subscriptions which are pledged as an auxiliary to the Temperance Temple. Some of the members not being present, perhaps, do not know of this apportionment, which is $1.50 per member. We are expected to earn it in some way and then early in January we will have an experience social when each one will tell how she raised the money.

PRESS SUPERINTENDENT.

LAYS OF A QUIET TOWN.

The Curfew.

Have you heard the tale of the Curfew bell?
You haven't? Well!
Promptly each night at half past eight
The marshal emerges, all elate
With joy at the duty to be fulfilled.
He strides along with martial tread
And closely to pleasure is duty wed.

The small boy hitherto filled with glee
Sees him coming and shrinks away
Trembling with fear lest the marshal see
Him stray but a step from the narrow way.

And even the curs that the street infest
Compress themselves within their skins,
Filled with a fearsome tho' vague unrest
That makes them ruminate over their sins!

And the lone little billy goat hobbled near
Bleats in his terror and almost wails,
Tugs at his chain with the strength of fear
Strives to escape from the world and fails!

On and yet onward the marshal strides
On past the bustling marts of trade,
Behind dark corners the small boy hides
And the crowd as he passes fall back dismayed!

For they see in the figure striding by
A something that fills them with deepest awe
Their's not to question nor reason why
But to open a way in the name of the law.

He gains the spot where the lofty tower
Bends 'neath the weight that its timbers bear;
Just as the town clock strikes the hour,
And proclaims to the world that the marshal's there!

Ding, dong, dell; hear the curfew bell
As the marshal pulls with all his might,
And along the street hear the scurrying feet
Of small boys vanishing into the night!

So here is success to the curfew bell
And joy to the marshal who rings it well,
And here's to the boys whom a cruel fate
Consigns to their homes at half past eight!

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The finals for the championship in the Suburban League Basket ball season were played off at Alhambra last Saturday between El Monte and Glendale. The game resulted in a victory for Glendale, the score being 29 to 20. The Glendale team clearly outplayed the El Monte boys in every way. It was snappy, well conducted and full of interest. It was unfortunate that a few Alhambra rowdies who mingled with the El Monte followers used all their influence to interrupt the game by crowding up to the side lines and in other ways quite as discourteous and ungentlemanly. This victory for Glendale makes the team the champions of the suburban league for 1908, an honor they fully deserve as a reward for consistent hard and systematic practice.

The boys who played in the final game are Emery (f) and Sprinkle (f), Taylor (c), Stine (g), Walton (g), Gould (g). The El Monte team came over with banners flying and drums beating fully assured that they would carry away the victory. They were disappointed and failing to adjust themselves to the defeat they have protested the game.

The San Pedro High School girls' basketball team will meet the Glendale girls on the home court on Saturday afternoon of this week. The game will be called at 2:30. Mr. Preston Osborne of U. S. C., will referee the game. San Pedro is considered the fastest team in the league and the game should be full of excitement. The following girls will compose the team: Pearl Goode (captain), Bertha Hopkins, Alma Stone, Lois Graham, Ruth Tarrell, Mabelle Coleman and Leeta McCoy.

Of Import to Parents

MR. EDITOR: Do parents generally appreciate the opportunity which is being offered the school children of this locality in the course of six concerts for one dollar given by the best Los Angeles talent at the Theater Beautiful?

The musical standard among Los Angeles musicians is high and each one who takes part in these concerts is an artist in his line. The writer has paid a dollar to hear a single one of them in a single concert.

There is nothing in education so elevating and refining and possessing so much of culture in its influence as music and the significance of these concerts in moulding the standard of culture in the fast approaching years when our children will be the active men and women of affairs, is great and hopeful. No parent can afford to have his child miss this rare privilege, especially presented for the benefit of school children.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

(Copyright, 1908, T. S. Linscott, D. D.)
DECEMBER 13TH, 1908.

Solomon dedicates the temple.—I Kings viii.

Golden Text.—I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the house of the Lord.—Psalm cxxii: 1.

Verses 1-11—These verses describe a grand gathering of the King, the priests and the people for a great religious festival. Would it be a good thing for every church to have such gatherings; something say, of the nature of the old-time camp meetings?

What is the chief institution of a nation, and what is the chief duty of a man?

Is there in a church today, any more of "the glory of the Lord" manifested, than anywhere else? v:11.

Verse 12—Is "darkness" as much a sign of God's presence as is the light, and is one as necessary as the other?

Verse 13—What is the best thing for a man to do with his surplus money?

Verse 14.—Should every person constantly "bless" every other person, and if it were done, what would be the results? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 15-21—Are the promises in this day which God makes "with his mouth," always fulfilled "iwth his hand?"

What was God's chief purpose of choosing Israel to be teh repository of his truth?

Why did God not permit David to build the Temple of God?

What reason is there to believe that each individual is a link in the chain which draws out of events as they occur, God's purposes, as in the case of David and Solomon?

Verse 22—Ministers, liek Solomon, often spread out their hands when about o pray in the pulpit; is there any important significance in this gesture, or is it simply useless pulpit mannerism?

Verses 23-24—Granted that there is only one Almighty God, are there any other powerful spirits, either good or evil, which exercise an influence over us, and answering to what the ancients called "the gods?"

God's promises in general, and to the individual, are as dependable as are the laws of gravitation; but what is the evidence that such is the case?

Verses 25-26—Is it a proper prayer to ask God to keep his promises?

Which is the better way, to keep God reminded of his promises, or to take it for granted that they will be answered, and to ask God for grace to keep our part of the compact?

Verse 27—What is the supreme evidence that God does dwell on the earth, and in the heart of each individual?

Verse 28—Speaking from actual test, or experience, what are the benefits of prayer?

Verses 29-52—Was this great prayer of Solomon extempore in its language, or prepared before hand?

Should ministers prepare their prayers with as much care as they should their sermons?

Which is the more important part of church service, the prayers or the sermon?

Solomon assumes in this prayer that all calamities, both national and personal, are a result of sin; is that assumption correct?

Is a minister's prayer for God to forgive the sins of the people of any avail, if the people do not repent?

Verses 53-66—What is the chief or supreme purpose of the church and of worship?

What are the churches doing for this country?

Lesson for Sunday, Dec. 20th, 1908—Solomon's Downfall.—I Kings xi:4-13.

The topic of the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning will be "The Source of Power." The song service which has been a feature of the evening for the past months will be continued at 7:30, as usual. Teh topic of the evening sermon will be "Winning the Brother."

DAINTY SHOWER FOR MISS BLAISDELL.

One of the prettiest of recent social events was the miscellaneous shower given on Saturday afternoon for a much-loved sister in Chapter L, P. E. O., by Mrs. C. E. Russell and her daughter, Miss Una, at their home on Third street. The engagement of the honore, Miss Charlotte Blaisdell, to Mr. William Goss, had formally been given at the P. E. O. announcement, and this was one of the complimentary affairs preceding the wedding of January 12th.

The hostesses, in white, and the honore in pale pink directoire, were assisted in receiving by the young bride's cousin, Miss Bertha Fuller, who recently returned from Mexico. With the exception of two, the entire membership of Chapter L was present. Mrs. Magee (formerly Ednah Ballentine) of Los Angeles, Miss Helen Best of Pasadena, were present; Mrs. Lottie Hezmalhalch was present by letter.

The home, profusely decorated with blossoms, was lighted with numerous Japanese lanterns, and windbells added to the impression of fairyland. In the reception hall a canopy of white ribbon and smilax was surmounted by a dainty wedding bell. Beneath it were a shower of marguerites and gifts. In the dining room, hearts and roses were prettily combined about the punch bowl. Guests outside the chapter were Mrs. Edward Fuller of North Glendale, Mrs. Howard Goss, Mrs. P. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Ballentine of Tropico and Thomas McGee of Los Angeles.
